NEWS CHANNEL 8 (ABC) INVITES JAMES SEVERINE, CHIEF OF SECURITY TO GIVE HOME SECURITY TIPS TO CONNECTICUT VIEWERS

Greenwich, CT – June 10, 2007 – James Severine, Chief of Security with Greenwich, CT based Select Key Holder's® Residential Estate Management (SKH), appeared on NEWS CHANNEL 8 (ABC) live June 07, 2007 to give Connecticut viewers tips to avoid being victimized this summer.

Mr. Severine told NEWS Channel 8 WTNH TV 8 (ABC) Good Morning Connecticut show anchor Chris Velardi, that some homeowners in the Greater New Haven, Waterbury and Hartford area tend to lower the bar on home security during the summer; while others do a masterful job. Mr. Severine commented; “One of the things we wanted to shed light on this time was a form of burglary called Distraction Burglary, where a clandestine group of unassuming thieves posing as an employee of a utility company for example prey on mainly the elderly and women, tricking them into letting them in the home and proceed to steal jewelry and cash once they gain access.”

James Severine added; “While relaxing in the back yard this summer, lock your front door and arm your security system and make sure perimeter lighting sensors are in working condition and report street lighting that may be out. Mr. Severine makes regular appearances on NEWS Channel 8 WTNH TV 8 (ABC) Good Morning Connecticut show. James Severine is scheduled to appear nationally on FOX NEWS CHANNEL/FOX & FRIENDS (FNC) July 08, 2007 along with other media appearances in the coming months.
